Abstract

The Census of Tribal Justice Agencies (CTJA) compiles data on the law enforcement, courts and administration, corrections and intermediate sanctions, criminal history records, and justice statistics of the federally recognized American Indian tribal governing bodies. American Indians in the United States belong to approximately 562 federally recognized tribes - as well as bands and clans - that have a distinct history, culture, and often a separate language.

- Study 04439 -

Three hundred forty-one federally recognized American Indian tribes are located in the lower 48 states. Over 92% (314) of these tribes participated in the Census of Tribal Justice Agencies, 2002. Participation by Alaska Native tribes was not extensive enough to enable their inclusion.

The data indicate which tribes have sworn law enforcement personnel and the source of authority, what the number and type of tribal court systems are, who performs the tribal detention function and what types of sanctions are imposed. It also addresses whether tribes have access to State and national criminal record systems.

INTRODUCTION

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), U.S. Department of Justice, through Falmouth Institute and Policy Studies Inc., is conducting a census of tribal justice agencies in American Indian and Alaska Native tribal jurisdictions. This is the first comprehensive effort to identify which justice agencies are operating in tribal jurisdictions, what services those agencies provide, and what information they collect and keep. Once our analysis is completed, we will send a copy of the survey findings to all respondents. The findings also will be posted on the BJS website (<http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/bjs>) and BJS will compile and make available a national directory of justice agencies in tribal jurisdictions throughout the country.

In some instances, we have mailed this survey to more than one person in a tribe or village because we did not know who was best able to answer the questions. If you are not the appropriate person to respond to this survey, please give it to someone who might be more appropriate.

You may complete and submit your survey using any of the following four options:

- Mail: send your completed survey in the enclosed stamped envelope to Policy Studies Inc.; 999 18th Street, Suite 1000; Denver, Colorado 80202.
- Fax: submit your completed survey by fax to 303-295-0244.
- Telephone: Call toll free 1-800-992-4489 extension 105 and leave a message. Someone from our team will call you to complete the survey over the telephone.
- Internet: If you have access to the Internet, you may complete the survey on line at www.justicesurvey.com.

Please be assured that your tribe's responses will not be identified with you individually. We ask for your name and contact information above only so that we can follow up with you on specific questions if necessary.

If you have questions or need assistance, you may call toll free and leave a message at 1-800-992-4489 extension 105 or send an e-mail message to Tracy Griffith at tgriffith@policy-studies.com. A member of our survey administration team will respond promptly.

Thank you for your cooperation in this important data collection effort. Your responses are critically important to the success of this survey.
